Overview

Welcome

Welcome to the BSB40920 Certificate IV in Project Management. This is a nationally recognised and accredited program presented by UNE Partnerships Pty Ltd, the Education and Training Company of the University of New England.

This program is founded on national and international best practice in project management, as endorsed by the Australian Institute of Project Management.

The design of this program allows you to study the most up-to-date theories and practices in the field of project management and, more importantly, at the level of Project Coordinator where responsibility for many of the project outcomes and team membership is found. This has application to a number of roles including team leader, project administrator, project officer, scheduler, estimator or team member.

The industry in which you work nor the size or complexity of the projects in which you expect to be involved do not matter as the skills and knowledge gained through successful completion of this course are applicable wherever you are or however you intend to apply them.

Whatever your needs, at the end of this program you will find your day-to-day activities will be simpler and less time-consuming through a better understanding of the application of the principles and processes associated with effective project management.

Throughout this program our role is to act as your guide. No-one knows better than you how you intend applying any new skills or knowledge within your work environment. Our aim is to highlight the competencies demonstrated by the best project managers and to assist your application of these skills in ways important to your needs.

You may already be applying many of these competencies. In this case, our aim extends to helping you gain professional recognition for your current knowledge and skills against benchmarks here and overseas.

Aim of the program

Most managers today practise project management in one form or another. Project teams are replacing middle managers as organisations 'downsize' or flatten their organisational hierarchy and more and more work is being measured by outcomes that meet quality, time or cost guidelines.

This course reflects the role of individuals who identify and apply project management skills and knowledge across a wide context. They may be members of a project team but with no direct responsibility for the overall project outcomes. They support project operations in one or more roles and under direction and may selectively use project tools and methodologies to support organisational or business activities. They take responsibility for their own outputs in terms of organisational and project quality requirements and may have limited responsibility for the output of others. At the successful completion of this course you will have:

- a working knowledge of project management, including an understanding of project planning and control procedures, resource management and risk analysis as they apply to projects
- an understanding of the methods, techniques and tools available to help you effectively manage the elements of the projects in which you are, or will be, involved.

Learning outcomes

This program commences with a skill set that includes four of the nine units of competency from the BSB40920 Certificate IV in Project Management Practice. To complete the qualification, a further five units of competency must be completed.

On completion of the skill set Time, Cost, Risk and Communications you should be able to:

- Assist in the development of a project schedule, maintain the schedule and participate in review and evaluation of time management within the project.
- Assist in the development of a project budget, monitor project costs and contribute to cost finalisation processes.
- Assist with risk analysis and planning, perform risk control activities (implement, monitor, review/report) and contribute to risk management outcomes.
- Contribute to the development and implementation of the project communications plan and networks. Maintain and communicate project information, contribute to and report on the ongoing assessment and review of communication activities.

On completion of the full qualification program you should also be able to contribute to:

- Developing effective project management plans to meet the delivery requirements and expectations of project customers and stakeholders.
- Using governance, risk and communications mechanisms linked with plans for the day-to-day monitoring and effective control of projects to meet objectives, and the ultimate realisation of benefits.
- Providing quality deliverables, with the ability to meet reporting requirements on demand, and ultimately provide customer satisfaction.

- Selecting appropriate tools and techniques to support monitoring and control mechanisms, and continuous improvement.
- Assigning, developing and leading project teams to achieve optimal performance and outstanding, sustainable results.
