Overview

Welcome

Welcome to the Sandvik Project Management skill set from the Diploma of Project Management BSB51415 - a nationally recognised and accredited qualification presented by UNE Partnerships Pty Ltd, the Education and Training Company of the University of New England.

This program is founded on national and international best practice in project management, as endorsed by the Australian Institute of Project Management.

The design of this program allows you to study the most up-to-date theories and practices in the field of project management, and more importantly at the level of Project Manager where responsibility for project outcomes is found. Our Diploma is aimed at meeting your needs, whether you are an experienced project manager, a novice project manager, or a future project manager.

It does not matter which industry you work in nor the size or complexity of the projects in which you expect to be involved, because the skills and knowledge gained through successful completion of this course are just as applicable wherever you are or however you intend to apply them.

Whatever your needs, at the end of this program you will find that your day-to-day activities will be much simpler and less time-consuming through a better understanding of the application of the principles and processes associated with the effective management of projects.

Throughout this program, our role is to act as your guide. No-one knows better than you do how you intend applying any new skills or knowledge within your work environment. Because of this our aim is to highlight the competencies demonstrated by the best project managers and to help you try these out in ways that are important to your needs.

You may already know, and be applying, many of these competencies. In this case our aim is also to help you gain professional recognition for what you already know and are doing. This way your current skills and knowledge can be recognised and aligned with those identified as being amongst the best here and overseas.

Aim of the program

Today most managers practise project management in one form or another. Project teams are replacing middle managers as organisations 'down-size' or flatten their organisational hierarchy, and more and more work is being measured by outcomes that meet quality, time or cost guidelines.

This course aims to provide you with the skills and knowledge to plan and manage projects that achieve objectives important to you and your organisation – regardless of its size or type of activity. At the successful completion of this course you will have:

- a working knowledge of project management, including an understanding of project planning and control procedures, resource management, and risk analysis as they apply to projects, and
- an understanding of the methods, techniques and tools available to help you manage more effectively the projects you are, or will be, involved in.

Learning outcomes

This program commences with a skill set that includes five of the twelve units of competency from the Diploma of Project Management BSB51415. To complete the qualification, a further seven units of competency need to be completed.

On completion of the skill set - Time, Cost, Risk and Communications/Stakeholders, you should be able to:

- Determine and implement the project schedule and assess time management outcomes.
- Identify, analyse and refine project costs to produce a budget, and to use this budget as the principal mechanism to control project cost.
- Identify, analyse, treat and monitor project risks, and assess risk management outcomes.
- Manage stakeholder relationships and link people, ideas and information in all stages of the project life-cycle using formal structures and processes.

On completion of the full qualification program you should be able to:

- Develop effective integrated project management plans to meet the delivery requirements and expectations of project customers and stakeholders.
- Use governance, risk and communications mechanisms linked with the plans for the day-to-day monitoring and effective control of projects to meet objectives, and the ultimate realisation of benefits.
- Provide quality deliverables, with the ability to meet reporting requirements on demand, and ultimately provide customer satisfaction.
- Select appropriate tools and techniques to support monitoring and control mechanisms, and continuous improvement.
- Assign, develop and lead project teams to achieve optimal performance and outstanding, sustainable results.
